Thank You

For years you and other partners have made the Esri Water Pool Party a hit. This year, we are hosting the Water Sector Social, a new event in lieu of the pool party.

This social is for a more focused group of water and water-resources professionals. Our venue will be smaller. Our networking will be stronger. Our community will be ripe with information and conversation. The Water Team believes this will provide more value to Esri, our partners, and our customers.

Please contact me if you have any questions.
